

ABOUT US

Western Nebraska Behavioral Health, PC (WNBH) is a network of rural clinics providing mental and behavioral health services to communities in rural Nebraska. Our primary specialty is working with children, adolescents, and families, but some of our clinicians also work with adult populations.

We work in primary care medical settings, in order to collaborate more fully with your medical providers, and also work closely with local schools.

WNBH currently has clinics in: Alliance, Chadron, Crawford, Rushville, and Valentine, Nebraska. Several clinicians serve these communities, with a variety of specializations and skills.

FARM CAMP:

The Frontier Area Rural Mental-health Camp and Mentorship

Program is a yearly summer camp for high school students interested in behavioral health careers. It is run by WNBH, and supported in part by the Behavioral Health Education Center of Nebraska. The camp is intended to help with the shortage of behavioral health providers in rural settings.
